Inclement Weather Campus Operations
Plymouth State University normally remains open during inclement weather. The University makes every effort to avoid an official closing because most students live within minutes of the campus.

In most weather situations, the University will remain open, and employees are expected to work on campus to provide services to our students. Employees should make reasonable decisions when considering travel or family needs, and supervisors should respect these decisions. Staff members must notify their supervisor if they are unable to report to work at a specified time or if they need to leave work early. In these instances, staff members who have their supervisor's express approval may work remotely. Those staff members designated as being necessary for continued operations are required to receive supervisory approval for absences and use personal time.

Inclement Weather Campus Curtailment
In the event of an emergency or extreme weather conditions, the University Administration will do all it can to decide on and post notifications of class/event cancellations and/or facility closures by 6:00 a.m. For canceling evening classes, the decision is usually made and communicated no later than 3:00 p.m. Every effort will be made to make the decision as early as possible.

Cancel/Closure notifications will be communicated via the following means:
- PSU Alert Emergency Text Messaging System (sign-up at: https://campus.plymouth.edu/emergency/alert/)
- The Plymouth State University homepage at: http://www.plymouth.edu/
- PSU Alert e-mail
- PSU Alert/Storm Line (603)535-3535
- Local media such as http://www.wmur.com/

These guidelines and information about time recording for operating staff is available in the USNH Online Policy Manual (OLPM) USY.V.F.5.3 at http://www.usnh.edu/olpm/USY/V.Pers/F.htm.

Essential Campus Department/Operational Areas:
The University designates certain departments as essential to campus operations, and as such they may be required to operate through emergency and inclement weather situations. The departments and operational areas designated by the University as essential include the Hartman Union Building (HUB), University Police, Physical Plant, Residential Life, Dining, Ice Arena/Welcome Center, Lamson Library, the Help Desk and Learning Commons at Lamson Library, Mail Services, and Health Services. Under curtailed operations employees in these departments and operational areas will receive their regular pay for the regularly scheduled hours, plus (for Operating Staff) compensatory time off for the hours worked. If an employee who is required to work due to essential operations does not report to work during a curtailed period, the staff member must use earned time or leave time for any time not worked during the curtailment.

On days that we curtail operations for inclement weather, the pace is admittedly slower due to campus closure, but there is the expectation that work will be performed by Faculty and PATs. Please consult with your supervisor for specifics on your work.

Faculty: The expectation is that Faculty may choose to provide on-line or additional assignments for students and continue individual conferences and appropriate work-related meeting by telephone or Zoom, rather than face-to-face, but may not hold on-campus classes during inclement weather cancellations. Instructors should be clear in their syllabi regarding these expectations. Students may not be disadvantaged in grading if they are unable to participate due to limited access to technology or internet services. For tenure-track faculty, reference article 4.3.1.3.1 of the collective bargaining agreement.
Salaried Staff: The expectation is that salaried staff are using the day to catch up on email; read the reports or articles that are outstanding; write reports, proposals, or other materials being worked on; and hold appropriate meetings by telephone or Zoom rather than face-to-face.

Hourly-paid Staff: The intention of curtailment policy is to ensure that staff members are paid for regularly scheduled hours during campus curtailment. Staff members are paid for the time lost if they have not previously requested the use of sick leave, vacation time, or earned time. If an hourly-paid staff member does not report to work due to weather conditions and curtailed operations is declared, the operating staff member shall charge their personal time or earned time for any hours not covered by the curtailed operations. In Kronos, curtailed operations need to be added to the timecard via a time off request. https://www.usnh.edu/sites/default/files/hr/resources/utime/kronos/request-time-off-non-exempt.pdf

Special Event/Committee Participation:
There are also times when special events/committee meetings are scheduled and can’t be cancelled due to inclement weather. If you are participating in one of these special events/committee meetings, you are considered essential staff and would be expected to report to work through emergency and inclement weather situations.

Other:
If you are unsure whether your position is considered essential in a weather emergency, please check with your supervisor. Operating staff employees designated by their supervisors as essential personnel will receive compensatory time for hours worked during curtailed operations.

 Please do not travel to campus on a curtailed operations day if your position is not part of the essential areas noted above. **

Please feel free to contact HR at 535-2250 or psu-humanresources@plymouth.edu if you have any questions.
