Minor requirements

Minor in Applied Linguistics

- Strengthen your language skills and cultural knowledge of languages spoken in the United States and around the world.
- Requires only 15-16 credits; a minor could easily complement any major on campus.
- Credits earned in the minor count as general elective credits as well. So, you satisfy elective requirements and complete a Applied Linguistics minor.
- A deeper understanding of language makes you more marketable in the professional world and could open more doors to job opportunities.

Declare An

APPLIED LINGUISTICS MINOR
YOU ONLY NEED 15-16 CREDITS

Few requirements, many rewarding and lifelong results

- LL 2000 Intro to Language and Linguistics 3 credits
- LLDI 2950 Language Acquisition (SIDI) 3 credits
- LL 3500 Research in Applied Linguistics 3 credits
- Complete two of the following — 6 or 7 credits
  - LLDI 2020 Queer Language, Culture and Identity (DICO)(SSDI)
  - LLDI 2450 Creating Language (CTDI)
  - LLDI 2500 The History of the English Language (PPDI)
  - LL 4100 TESOL Methods and Practice
  - LL 4300 Literacy in Language Learning

*All course information is from the Academic Catalog.